

The National Organization of Portuguese-Americans Funding Alert

The Development and Funding Alert is a publication of NOPA, Inc. and is provided as a service to the community with the purpose of educating and informing municipalities, civic and non-profit organizations about fundraising and grant opportunities to support programs that empower and improve the lives of Portuguese-Americans.

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) News

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, abbreviated ARRA, is an economic stimulus package enacted by the 111th United States Congress in February 2009. The Act was based largely on proposals made by President Barack Obama and was intended to provide a stimulus to the U.S. economy in the wake of the economic downturn. The measures are nominally worth $787 billion. Besides federal tax cuts, expansion of unemployment benefits and other social welfare provisions, the Act includes domestic spending in education, health care, and infrastructure, including the energy sector.

Recovery Act and Grants.gov - A new feature was unveiled on Grants.gov to help users find and apply for ARRA grant opportunities. The launch of the ARRA or Recovery Act feature on the homepage of Grants.gov will direct users to Recovery Act opportunities, other Recovery Act resources, upcoming Webinars and links to www.whitehouse.gov/recovery and www.recovery.gov.

National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) announces funds to improve the training and education of professionals in the archival and historical publishing communities. Projects can be for professional education curriculum development; for basic and advanced institutes; or research seminars. Surveys, focus groups, and other activities to understand these professions and their educational and training needs are also eligible.

Eligibility: Public and state controlled institutions of higher education, nonprofit organizations, private institutions of higher education.

Deadline: October 6, 2009.

Funds: 4 awards ranging from $150,000-$300,000 are available. A match is required.

Information: <http://www.archives.gov/nhprc/announcement/development.html>.

Strategies and Tools for Archives and Historical Publishing Projects

National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) announces funds to support proposals to develop new strategies and tools that can improve the preservation, public discovery, or use of historical records. Projects may also focus on techniques and tools that will improve the professional performance and effectiveness of those who work with such records, such as archivists, documentary editors, and records managers.

Eligibility: Public and state controlled institutions of higher education, state governments, nonprofit organizations, private institutions of higher education and DC government agencies.

Deadline: October 6, 2009.

Funds: $350,000 is available to fund 1-3 awards, ranging from $50,000-$150,000. A match is required.

Information: <http://www.archives.gov/nhprc/announcement/strategies.html>.

Scholarly Editions and Translations

National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) announces funds to support the preparation of editions and translations of pre-existing texts and documents that are currently inaccessible or available in inadequate editions. Projects must be undertaken by a team of at least one editor or translator and one other staff member. Grants typically support editions and translations of significant literary, philosophical, and historical materials, but other types of work, such as musical notation, are also eligible.

Eligibility: City or township governments, county governments, public and state controlled institutions of higher education, state governments, nonprofit organizations, private institutions of higher education and community-based organizations.

Deadline: October 29, 2009.

Funds: Awards range from $50,000-$100,000.

Community Capacity Development Office (CCDO) FY10 Weed and Seed Communities Competitive Program Guide

Department of Justice announces funds to support "the Weed and Seed strategy," which aims to prevent, control, and reduce violent crime, criminal drug-related activity, and gang activity. The Weed and Seed strategy is a community-based, comprehensive multi-agency approach. Four elements make up the two-pronged Weed and Seed Strategy: Law Enforcement; Community Policing; Prevention, Intervention, and Treatment; and Neighborhood Restoration. Weed and Seed Communities must work to reduce crime and improve the quality of life for residents in a community primarily through the redeployment of existing public and private resources, addressing both crime and social related problems that without proper intervention often lead to violent crime, drug abuse, and gang activity.

Eligibility: City or township governments, county governments, state governments, nonprofit organizations, faith-based organizations, community-based organizations and DC government agencies.

Deadline: December 1, 2009.

Funds: Awards range up to $150,000. A match is required.

990 Online Resource

In collaboration with the National Association of Attorney's General/National Association of State Charity Officials (NAAG/NASCO) and GuideStar, the National Center for Charitable Statistics NCCS has developed an online system, the 990 Online, for charities to complete all their federal Form 990 and state registration filing requirements and file these forms electronically. E-Filing of IRS Form 990s and state charity forms benefits nonprofit organizations, regulators, researchers, and donors alike. This online service offers an easy-to-use web-based system for completing IRS Form 990s, 990s-EZ or 8868 (application for extension). The system is free for organizations with less than $100,000 in gross receipts and there is a sliding scale for larger organizations. To complete and electronically file your Form 990, 990-EZ, 8868 (extension request) and State Charity Registration Forms go to: <http://efile.form990.org>.

Awards for Local Arts and Education Programs

Barnes & Noble Booksellers offers ongoing fundraising opportunities for local level pre-K-12 schools, not-for-profit arts and literacy organizations. Opportunities include in-store bookfairs and holiday gift-wrapping. Breakthroughs in Shared Measurement and Social Impact

William and Flora Hewlett Foundation released an online report based on interviews conducted with dozens of practitioners and thought leaders in the social sector. The report describes twenty different shared measurement systems already in use and documents their contribution to increasing grantees' efficiency, knowledge, and impact. The findings identify shared approaches to performance, outcome, or impact measurement across multiple organizations. The report includes four in-depth case studies where collaborative learning and measurement systems are used to create systemic and adaptive approaches to solving social problems. To access the online report go to: http://www.fsg-impact.org/ideas/item/breakthroughs_in_measurement.html.

Tips to Get the Grant Funding You Need

Here are some ways to raise your chances of success:

- If you are a first-time grantseeker, go for smaller grants.
- Identify your organization's competitive edge.
- Since you will need to refer to and/or attach standard documents when preparing grant proposals, keep a collection of these documents on hand.
- Develop a consistent process for seeking grants.
- Apply only for grants that match your organization's mission.
- Don't limit your funding searches only to grantmakers that focus on your constituency.
- Make sure your organization has the capacity to carry out the purposes of the grant.
- Put together a strong team before drafting your proposal.
- Develop a week-by-week schedule for preparing your proposal.
- Limit the number of needs described in your proposal. Don't include every possible problem.
- In your proposal budget, show how each proposed activity will be paid for.
- Explain clearly how you arrived at the figures in your budget.
- Stay organized during the application process.
